

Message# 157 - 9-19-2021 - Predestination vs Whosoever Will

Preached first on 9/19/2021 on www.molibertyradio.us

Good morning everyone. I'm glad that you have taken the time to listen to the message this morning.

Kingdom Conference 2021 Fall Edition is rapidly approaching. Please send us an email and let us know if you are planning on attending. This is a great time of fellowship with like-minded believers and I hope you are making plans to attend. Ted is preparing 3 messages, I will have messages prepared, Paul is preparing a message, Matthew, Jerry, Doug Nelson. Sam is preparing something that I believe is going to be of great interest to all of us. He is going to share his experience growing up blind and being sent to a government school. He is going to be revealing more information as to why our children - and friends - for followers of Christ - this should have been a no-brainer from the beginning - our children should never be in a government school - period. Of any kind - ever. But Sam has some really interesting information that he is going to share related to his experience - but how it is part of a much larger plan than what was basically - experimented on the blind.

Followers of Christ should come out from the world - in every single area of life. This is what I have been preaching for more than 35 years - trying to live it as well - have not gained a whole lot of traction - yes - we've seen fruit - excellent fruit - quality fruit - don't misunderstand that - but multitudes of people? Hardly. Come out from the world - be separate - be exclusively God's people.

Let me give you an example. The Bible teaches that God gave food for medicine. Good food, good water, herbs of the field, He told us what to eat, what not eat, all of that is for health reasons. He is the Creator - He obviously knows what's best for His Creation to eat - in order to be healthy.

In the list of things to eat - there is not a single manmade chemical in the list. As a result - and you can ask my wife - she will verify this - I have told her for as long as we've been married - I have a no "drug" policy in my life. I don't take Tylenol if I have a headache. I don't take Pepto-Bismol if I have a stomach ache. There has been - I think - 2 times in my adult life - where I failed to live up to my belief system - my faith - in this matter. One time I had an accident and cut three fingers very badly on my left hand. I went to the emergency room because it was so bad I knew I couldn't fix it myself. They did surgery to repair as much of the damage as they could - then when I left the hospital - they gave me a prescription for some high powered pain killer. I think I took a couple of them then - dealing with my conscience was worse than the pain - so I stopped taking them. Now stay with me here - I'm talking about my own life experiences here - and you can take it or leave it - but I do believe I came upon some information this week that I think is vitally important and somewhat vindicates my radical faith.

One of our faithful listeners sent me an email asking me about "vaccine exemption forms". I had not seen anything like this until then - I had heard about it but had not seen it yet. And it was from a hospital corporation. It was specifically for people who were wanting to claim a "religious exemption" from taking the vaxx. This was really interesting because what they were saying was this, basically, in order for you to claim a "religious exemption" then you need to be consistent with what you claim is your faith - your system of belief. In other words, if you, for instance, are trying to say that the vaxx was created from aborted baby cells - which it absolutely is - and they say so in the document - then - if that's your belief - then you should also not be taking - and here's the list - this is what they listed in their "Religious Exemption Attestation for Covid-19 Vaccine" form: These are the things they said also contain cells from aborted babies.

Tylenol - They are saying that you will be disqualified for a "religious exemption" if you take Tylenol.

Pepto Bismol, Aspirin, Tums, Lipitor, Senokot, Xigris, Motrin, Ibuprofen, Maalox, Simvastatin - I can't imagine eating something that we can't even pronounce the name - by the way - do you know where these drug names came from? If you don't know - you should research it. I think I might have said something about it a few weeks ago - but the names are approved by the FDA and they have to be completely random - they can't be named after anything they claim to affect - they're almost just like totally random letters and syllables - it's really weird what they do. Ex-lax - of course - some of the names were invented long before these new FDA regulations on the names of drugs was revised - Zocor, Tylenol Cold and Flu, Benadryl, Sudafed, Preparation H, MMR vaccine, Acetaminophen, Claritin, Zoloft, Azithromycin, Enbrel and others.

So what they are trying to say is, if a person is claiming "exemption from the Covid-jab due to "religious reasons" - then they are disqualified if they have taken any of these other drugs - because all the drugs in that list are also from research fetal cells from aborted babies.

So what's my point? When all this garbage came along - from the very beginning - for all of us claiming Christ - it should just have been - "Oh, here's another thing - just add it to the list." No need to know the ingredients. No need to research - it's another one of their diabolical satanic creations - and of course - we will have nothing to do with it.

Just like "vaccine passport." No thanks. Call it what it really is. "Vaccine license." Well, we don't have any of your other "licenses" - this is just another one in a long list of "licenses" that followers of Christ would not have. No big deal. It's just another license - we don't have any of your other ones - so we won't have this one, either.

This is just another drug - we don't use any of your other drugs - so we won't use this one, either. Same thing.

This is what I'm saying. God is going to have His people. One way or another. And they are going to be called out of this world. And eventually, they are going to see the line in the sand, and they are going to see that all along - there has been another Government, there has been another Citizenship, there's been a choice to be separated to God - there's been another health, there's been another of everything else and hopefully they will make the right choice when presented - again.

Is the line in the sand the "vaxx?" Hopefully. And again, here's my point. Some people say that the "vaxx" is their line in the sand. Ok. But on the other side - people are saying - but - you take Tylenol. If you take Tylenol, then this is not your deeply held "religious conviction." Well, you won't participate in the "Vaccine Passport?" But you have a driver's license. There is no difference. You participated in this one all your life with no problems with your conscience. Why is it all of a sudden a problem for you?"

Then, when people are faced with looking at it like that - you realize - "Oh, the line in the sand was actually 100 miles back. We should have never made any agreements with these people. We never should have taken any of their drugs. We never should have taken any of their licenses. We never should never have EVER been "citizens" with them - we never should have been a part of "We the people." That's where we failed. We should never have given them one inch. "Give an inch, take a mile." Isn't that the old saying?

Compromise is not a good thing when it comes to following Christ. What did Christ say, "A little leaven - just a little - a pinch - leaveneth the whole lump." Followers of Christ should have NO AGREEMENTS - period - NONE - with the unbelieving little g governments of this world.

Yeah, I know this presents some real problems for us. We need to fix this. And if you are the only one in your generation that will stand up and say - "That's it. I can't do this any longer." Then so be it. Then, when or if, you find other believers in your generation who say the same thing - you need to join yourself in close proximity - physically close proximity - does "community" come to mind? That's what we are supposed to do.

Can you live this way by yourself? Yes, you can. And if you are not part of a community, you STILL have a responsibility to Christ to live this way. But that is not what He wants for His people. He wants His people gathered together in "called out Christian communities of believers." Ecclesias is what the Bible calls them. It is a body and the body is not scattered all over the place. It's not a body if it's not together.

Our Citizenship is supposed to be exclusively as Citizens of the Commonwealth of Israel. Anything other than that is compromise. This is why I read so many passages last week concerning the jealousy of God. He will not share. It's all His and He will not give an inch - neither should we.

I read this article this past week and there are some things in here that apply to us. Things that I think we need to look at for ourselves. This was from Reuters news service and the title is:

Vaccinated Mr President? New York wants proof, U.N. chief cannot enforce

Listen to this.

UNITED NATIONS, Sept 15 (2021) (Reuters) - U.N. chief Antonio Guterres stressed on Wednesday that he cannot ask world leaders to show they have been vaccinated against COVID-19, after New York City officials said proof should be required for anyone entering the U.N. General Assembly Hall.

Dozens of heads of state and government and foreign ministers - accompanied by countless diplomats - are due to be in New York next week for an annual high-level gathering at the United Nations. Some leaders are staying away and sending a video statement instead because of the coronavirus pandemic.

New York City officials told the United Nations that under its rules people "entering the U.N. premises for the purpose of entering the General Assembly Hall would be required to show proof of vaccination in order to gain entry to the Hall."

But Secretary-General Guterres told Reuters in an interview: "We, as the Secretariat, cannot tell a head of state if he is not vaccinated that he cannot enter the United Nations."

I see, so there are some people who can be on "U.S. soil" and not be subject to "U.S. laws?" Well isn't that interesting. Keep reading.

The U.N. headquarters in Manhattan is international territory and is not subject to U.S. laws. However, U.N. officials have previously pledged to abide by local and national guidance when it came to the pandemic.

In other words, "we know we're not subject to your laws, but we won't make it too obvious to others may not find out they, too, are not subject to the statutes." So someone, at some time, declared the U.N. headquarters in New York city to be international territory and not subject to U.S. laws. Well, how does that work? I've been told that any time someone is on "U.S. soil" they are subject to the statutes of the state. Well, apparently that's just not true. And if it's not true for some people - then it's not true for all people. There are reasons why people are subjected to statutes - and it's not just because they are on a certain piece of soil.

Now listen to me. Every man, woman, boy and girl ever born is subject to the Laws of God. There are no exemptions. There are no exemptions in the Statutes of God. If there was - God forbid this is a horrible comparison - but if there were vaccine requirements in the Laws of God - there would be no exemptions.

"Let every soul be subject."

Every soul is to be subjected to the Laws of God. There are no exemptions. There are no exceptions.

But when it comes to the statutes of men - they are full of exemptions and full of exceptions. This is why we should do NOTHING to submit ourselves to their statutes. Submitting to their statutes is a CHOICE men make. It's a horrible choice, it's the wrong choice - but it is a choice.

We must never give an inch on the fact that we cannot, will not, voluntarily submit ourselves to their statutes. And, I hate to say it, but it's true, filing for a "religious exemption" to their "vaxx" is submitting to their statutes. Filing any exemption with them - filing any exception with them - is submitting to their statutes. We just have to say, "No. We are Citizens of another country. Our country forbids - the Laws of our Country forbids - the King of our Country - forbids His Citizens from taking vaccines of any kind. Not just this one. All of them. Not just this drug, all of them. Not just this "passport" ALL of them. Not just this license - all of them. The Commonwealth of Israel has no licenses. Licenses are not Biblical. They are not in the Bible - our Lawbook. We must stand on this and never give an inch. We have a Jealous God Who will not budge. He is not willing to share His Dominion with anyone - especially not men who have not bowed the knee to His Son. Wow. That's about as clear as can be from learning the Mind, the Will of God, from the recorded Word of God. The article continues:

"We have discussed with the municipality (New York city) the different ways to ensure that we have the maximum of people with vaccination and the New York Mayor's office has put a vaccination capacity at our disposal. So people that come will be able to be vaccinated," Guterres said.

Again, let's not just go too crazy on this concept that some people on U.S. soil are not subject to U.S. laws. Let's try not to let that "cat out of the bag."

Guterres said the discussions around how many traveling diplomats might have been immunized illustrated "how dramatic the inequality is today in relation to vaccination." Though he added that the "overwhelming majority" of delegations traveling to New York would be vaccinated.

Out of 5.7 billion doses of coronavirus vaccines administered around the world, only 2% have been in Africa.

That's such a crock of "you know what." There's not a country in Africa, where, if the "leader" wanted take their diabolical jab - it wouldn't have been done. That's such bull - it's just ridiculous. Continuing:

Guterres has warned that the longer the virus circulates among billions of unvaccinated people, the higher the risk of more dangerous variants. He is pushing for a global plan with the aim of vaccinating 70% of the world's population by the first half of next year.

For some of you that know me a little better than others, you know that I enjoy numbers. So I kind of fact checked that. He says 5.7 billion doses have been administered. Well, they claim there are a little more than 7 billion people in the world. If almost 6 billion have taken the jab, then they've already exceeded 70%. By my calculations, those numbers are already at 75%. Of course, I think they've been lying about how many people have actually taken the jab anyway. But being the secretary general - I think he should quote his statistics a little better, at least.

I thought while I was reading this article, this would be a good time to see if the U.N. was part of the "population reduction heresy" - so I looked and came up with this. From populationmatters.org, quote:

12 SEPTEMBER 2019

The United Nations' 17 Sustainable Development Goals imply that there is no longer any need to reduce global population growth, even though it is a serious problem that undermines most of the SDG targets. By adding a further SDG aimed at slowing the increase in population, the world could yet save the UN's 2030 Agenda.

On September 24-25, world leaders will gather at the United Nations in New York to review progress toward the UN's 2030 Agenda and its 17 Sustainable Development Goals. The SDGs, which aim "to end poverty, protect the planet, and ensure prosperity for all," are commendable, and summarize the kind of world many of us wish to see in 2030. But if this vision is to have any chance of materializing, governments must now add an 18th goal: "Dampen population growth."

The challenges that humanity faces today stem mainly from overconsumption and overpopulation. Yet policymakers often fail to consider the two factors together, and largely neglect population growth in particular.

Bill Gates has already come out publicly talking about the world's problem of "overpopulation" and he said a way to combat it is with vaccination. It doesn't take too much research to see their transparency in regards to population reduction. Back to the U.N. article.

New York Mayor Bill de Blasio said on Wednesday that the city would provide COVID-19 testing and the single-dose Johnson & Johnson vaccine at a site outside U.N. headquarters next week.

That's odd. Why that one? Why not the one the FDA supposedly approved?

De Blasio praised U.N. General Assembly President Abdulla Shahid for telling U.N. colleagues in a letter that he strongly supports proof of vaccination and would work with the secretary-general to implement the requirement "as soon as possible."

However, Russian U.N. Ambassador Vassily Nebenzia said on Wednesday that Moscow objected to anyone having to show vaccination proof to enter the General Assembly, describing such a move as discriminatory.

I've said before, I'm happy to see resistance from almost any source. Amazing. The Russians spoke up against this. Not the U.S., not the U.K. Russia.

In a letter to U.N. colleagues, Nebenzia called for the General Assembly to meet on Thursday to discuss the issue. It was not immediately clear if such a meeting would be scheduled.

New York City officials told the United Nations that the spread of the highly contagious Delta variant was a major concern and that new cases had increased significantly in the past two months.

U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Linda Thomas-Greenfield, last month urged world leaders to send videos instead of traveling to New York, saying it would help prevent the gathering "from being a super-spreader event."

Last year no countries sent delegations to New York and world leaders instead sent video statements.

I was speaking with a man this past week. 73 years old. Business owner. And he started in about telling me about "corona" and how it has affected his business. He was not very happy.

I asked him, "How many people do you know personally that have died from "corona."

His answer, "Well, my son knows..." I immediately stopped him. I said, "No, I said how many do YOU KNOW that have died from corona." He said, "Well, no one." I said, "Well isn't that interesting, because I don't know anyone, my wife doesn't know anyone, no one else that we know knows anyone, how could that be?" He answered that he believed there was something sinister going on that we don't know about.

Well, friends, we do know about it. And he does, too. The sooner we realize that those who do not claim to be Citizens of the Kingdom of God, those that want to continue with the whole scheme of nation-states and that they are ordained of God to exist - the sooner we realize that those that are outside the city of God - lie and love to make lies - if we will add that to our faith - our system of belief - we will be one step closer to seeing our generation come to Christ. They are all liars and from their father the devil - the one who is the father of lies.

Yes, of course, their father is dead. But that element continues to live according to the ways of their dead father. It's spirit continues. I mean spirit as in beliefs, teachings. The spirit of antichrist will always be around and will always be the enemy of the Kingdom of Christ. That spirit is kept alive in men's little g governments, their sciences, their arts, their music, their "health" system, the education system. And what's even worse than that - their devil is kept alive - in their "churches." Their "churches" do everything they can to make sure people believe their devil is actually still alive and doing very well today. It's not just the teachings of the devils - it's the devil itself - they want to make sure is still alive today.

In this series of messages, I have done all I could do - well - that's not totally accurate - I could still have spent weeks - maybe even months - proving again - that those people whose lives were recorded in the Word of God - had no choice in the way they were going to live. We talked about Jacob and Esau. We talked about Pharaoh. We talked about Mary - "Mary, if you want to, if you choose to, God wants you to have a baby and if you want to, He'd like you to name Him "Jesus" or more likely "Yeshua" and if you decide to cooperate with what God would like you to do, this baby will be God's Son and He will be the Saviour, Redeemer and King of Israel. So, if you will choose to allow this to happen, God would be real happy with you."

Or "Judas, if you don't want to betray Christ for 30 pieces of silver, you have a choice not to. You can just walk away if you don't want to do this. You have a choice in the matter, Judas. Even though it was prophesied hundreds of years earlier that you would betray Christ for 30 pieces of silver - if you choose not to do this - you can just walk away."

And I could go on and on and on - and you know I could. If we had a round table discussion - you would all be giving your own examples as to how the people who were written about in the Bible - had no choice in the outcomes of their lives. It had to be that way. Everything in there was written for our learning. The good. The bad. All of it. And everything in there had to happen so that Christ would be born and enter the world at exactly the right time. It was all planned.

And, I am offering the conclusion of it - that the Old World was predestined - foreordained because it had to be - but in the New World - where All things are become new - predestination and foreordination has been replaced with Whosoever Will. To date, I have received no objections whatsoever from anyone - that what I have said concerning predestination in the Old World was the way it was. I don't know how - if anyone wanted to - I don't know how they could argue otherwise.

Let's get back to John 3 Let's at least try to finish reading. This, I believe, is Christ giving a glimpse of what was soon coming at the end of the Old World and the establishment of the New. It's been so long since we were here, let's go ahead and begin in verse 1.

- [1] There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:
- [2] The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

There was another time the Pharisees came to Christ and from the context of that instance, the text tells us they came to trick Christ. They were deceitful. They were not honest in what they were doing and Christ told them so. He saw right through it. He knew they were wicked from the beginning and the text tells us so. In regards to Nicodemus - I don't think we see the same thing. And by the way, the comparison I am making was from Luke 20 - the "render unto Caesar" passage. Nicodemus, it seems, was by himself when he was asking speaking with Christ. Verse 3.

- [3] Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

I want you to know that I have gone back and tried to find the phrase "born again" in the first 39 books of the Bible. I could be wrong - I'll tell you that - but I do not believe we can find "born again" in the first 39 books - and actually in the last 27 books - outside of these verses and just a couple more - this certainly seems like it is a radical new concept that Christ is ushering in. I believe that is an accurate statement to make. Verse 4.

[4] Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

[5] Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God.

[6] That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

[7] Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

[8] The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

[9] Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

Alright. Now I think we need to really begin looking at this story even closer than ever. Verse 10.

[10] Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

I think this is very interesting. I don't find in this text that Nicodemus was there to tempt Christ. Or that his motives were bad. There's nothing here that tells us he was a bad guy. He was a "religious leader" in Israel. But he did not know what Christ was talking about. And I believe he didn't know because this was an entirely new concept that Christ was bringing to Israel. The people in the Old World were born for one purpose. Their lives were already planned ahead of time. They couldn't have been reborn - born again - with a fresh start - with a new life - because their lives were already structured before they were even born - Isaiah 1 - before you were even born - I ordained you for my purpose. This concept of new birth was brand new.

[11] Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and ye receive not our witness.

[12] If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?

Jesus is telling Nicodemus - you are supposed to be a master teacher of the Bible - but you do not understand these things.

But wait a minute. Where is the concept of being born again explained in the writings of the Law? Is it plainly discussed? No, I don't believe it was. We have seen some glimpses of it. But only because we already know the outcome. But, Christ is laying it out here. And Nicodemus could not even begin to see it.

“You are not seeing these things from the Old World - now I'm trying to explain things to you that are coming in the New World.” I believe that's what Christ is saying here. I had never really thought about it that way before until this week. Christ is getting ready to reveal some heavenly things coming in the New Covenant World. Things that were not the standard in the Old World - but were coming in the New World. Verse 13.

[13] And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

[14] And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

[15] That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.

Alright. Now watch this closer than you ever have before. Verse 16.

[16] For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

For God so loved the world...

What world are we talking about? We are not talking about the Old Covenant age. We are not talking about the New Covenant age. We are talking about the cosmos. We are talking about God's Creation. Everything that God Created - this is the cosmos. And because God loved His cosmos - His Creation - He loved it so much - He gave His Only Begotten Son. Now I ask you. When did He give His Only Begotten Son? In the first century. In the end of the Old Covenant World. Just prior to the beginning of the New World.

At the end of the Old Covenant world - He gave His Son. That is huge that we understand this. If a man or woman does not understand the end of the Old - they cannot understand these things. If someone doesn't understand that the end of the world has already occurred - they cannot understand this. This is another reason why Nicodemus couldn't understand it. He didn't understand the end of the world. Christ had not explained that yet (Matthew 24).

Today - if a man or woman does not understand the meaning of the end of the world - they will not understand this teaching of Christ. They will have all sorts of problems trying to reconcile Jacob have I loved, Esau have I hated - with "whosoever will may come."

Look, this is not hard. You cannot have Jacob have I loved, Esau have I hated at the same time as Whosoever Will. Esau could not have been included in Whosoever Will and even when he tried - when he cried with bitter tears - though he sought repentance carefully - with tears - he could not. Pharaoh's heart was hardened by God.

"I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will harden who I want to harden" - that cannot be reconciled with Whosoever Will. It can't be done. I'm not trying to tell you that I have all the answers - I'm not saying this at all. But I am telling you that I have been thinking and studying and praying about this for more than 35 years - and when you understand Fulfilled Bible Prophecy - when you know what the "end of the world" means - and you constantly try to sort out the implications of that faith - of that system of belief - all of a sudden - it isn't that hard.

But with it now - comes a huge new responsibility - because now we realize - "Oh my, we aren't just puppets on a string. We are not being moved about with the breeze - we aren't being put in situations where someone else is in total control and there is nothing that can be done to alter our course."

I still say - and no matter how much I try to think the other way - to me - it is a hopeless situation to believe that everything in this life is done because that's the way God wants it done - we are being faced with forced vaccinations and that's the Will of God - so there's nothing we can do to resist - we should just sit back - shut up - and go along with it because this is what God wants.

I do not believe that. We have choices to make. And had we made those choices years ago - we absolutely could have turned the world upside down - and our generation would not be facing what we are today. But, because we did not choose to follow Christ - we chose to walk according to the course of this world because we thought that's what God wanted - we are reaping the fields of our choices. This is not - none of this is God's fault.

If God's people - would have said, "No, we'll not compromise one inch. No, we are Citizens - exclusive Citizens of the Commonwealth of Israel - and we will live accordingly

- no matter what part of God's Creation are feet are on" - things would have been different today - than what they are.

“These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also, whom Jason hath received, and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying there is another King, One Jesus.”

That was written so that WE would know the way we are supposed to live. Those people didn't have a choice. They did what they did because it was predestined before the foundation of the world. And what they did - produced a certain result - and their actions - followed by the results shown - were written to show every subsequent generation under God's New Covenant Whosoever Will world - if you make the same choice - the same result will follow. $A + B = C$ and that's how it is. All it takes is for faith - the system of belief to be the same as those in the first century - then trust it. Trust it means to live it. That's what it means.

[16] For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son,

Why? Why did God give His Only Begotten Son? Why did God give His Only Begotten Son at the end of the Old Covenant age? So that in the New Covenant Age - in the New World where, “Behold, I make all things new” that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

The Pharaohs, the Esaus, the Judases, the Pharisees, in the Old World - they did not have a choice. Their hearts were hardened. Their outcomes were already determined. But not in the New World. Even the whacko maniacs like the Bidens and the Trumps - they could actually repent and believe in King Jesus and not perish but have everlasting life.

The New Covenant world is so much better than the Old one. There's not even a comparison. If you were alive in the Old Covenant world - the only hope you would have had would have been to be born as one of the chosen. Otherwise, you were without hope. Not a chance.

But not so in the new world. Everything that was ever done in the Old World was done so that in the New World - Whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish, but have everlasting life. Look at verse 17:

[17] For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

In the Old World - much of that world was condemned before they were even born.

“The children not being yet born, not having done any good or evil,”

That's what it says. Jacob and Esau had no choice. But because God so loved His Creation - at the end of the Old Covenant World - He gave His Only Begotten Son - so that Whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life. That is awesome.

The New Covenant World - the Kingdom of Christ - the Ecclesia of God was the plan from before the foundation of the world. The Old World, the Old Covenant age, happened exactly according to plan - so that one day - at the end of that age - a new and better way would be brought in. And Whosoever Will may come is that better way.

Are you going to try and tell me that Whosoever Will may come is not a better way than Jacob have I loved, Esau have I hated? Before those boys were ever born - they didn't have a choice? Do you really think that is a better way?

[18] He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

Wow this is such a better way. Believe in the name - again now - what is name? It is Authority. It is Who is your King? Whose Laws do you follow? Where is your Citizenship?

You mean I can choose to be a follower of Christ? You sure can. I can choose to believe in Christ? You sure can. You can have the Bible preached to you - skillfully and rightly - and that Word will convict your heart and will convince you of your need to Come out of the world and into the Kingdom of Christ and you say, “Yes, that's what I want.”

And the power of God will come upon you and change your heart and will make you clean and forgive you your sins - your bad choices - the bad choices you have made in your life prior to coming to Christ - He will forgive you - He will cause you to be born again. He will give you a completely new, fresh start where, All things have passed away and behold, all things are become new.

You, me, all of us, can make that choice because God so loved His Creation - that in the end of the Old Covenant World - He gave His Only Begotten Son - so that like the serpent in the wilderness - when He is held up - when He is presented as King of kings and Lord of lords when - men look at Him and believe on Him - they become the Sons of God. This is God's free gift in the New Covenant World. And it's available to Whosoever Will.

I believe this concept provides the greatest hope for mankind. It is the reason why we get up in the morning. It is the reason why we try to teach men and women boys and girls their absolute need to give their lives to Christ.

When men and women boys and girls give their lives to Christ - it means they have been presented with the Gospel. The Gospel that Jesus Christ is King - right now. It is the Gospel that the Commonwealth of Israel is the Only God Ordained Government in the New World. It is the Gospel that God's Laws are the Only Laws men should be Governed by. It is the Gospel that men and women boys and girls are to Come out of the domain of darkness - and into the Light.

When that Gospel is preached and men and women boys and girls CHOOSE to embrace this - they choose to become fully immersed into Christ - they choose to allow the King of kings and Lord of lords to take the throne of their lives and exclusively follow Him and His Kingdom - when this happens lives change. They've made the choice to choose Christ, His Kingdom and His Father's Laws - no doubt their lives are going to change. When these lives change - communities change - states change (for lack of better words) - nations change - the world changes.

But friends, this is not the Gospel that most of us have heard all our lives. Most of have had the "gospel of the church" preached to us. And friends, it's a damnable lie from the father of lies.

"Just as I am without one plea..." has not gotten the job done. The "churchian" gospel says nothing about what it means to be fully immersed into Jesus Christ. Being fully immersed in Jesus Christ means that everything we think, everything we believe and everything we try to do in this life - is based on the teachings of Christ and an unwavering commitment to His teachings.

“Church” is all about supporting men's little g governments. That's why every single one of them fly the u.s. flag in front of them. That's why every single one of them support the blue, support the military, support the CON. I'm telling you - just like I have been telling you for years now - if what you believe about the Bible has been shaped or molded in any form - by anyone or anything that still uses the word “church” - you better reevaluate.

I tried to clarify several weeks ago about the word “church” to again - make sure that I could not be misunderstood - I am telling you that it's not just the word “church” it is the concept. It is driving down the streets of America - any street in America - where you'll see one “church building” after another. That is NOT Biblical. That is not God's Creation and it is absolutely not what Christ built. The concept - the whole perception of what is in people's minds today when they hear the word “church” - the whole concept is a lie.

And, for men that claim to be preachers today - if when presented with the truth that even the very word “church” should not be in our English Bibles - if they refuse to study for themselves to find out whether or not that is so - if they continue with “church” - I'm telling you they do so because they do not know the Bible.

And, yet, this is where the whole concept for most people concerning “salvation” or being in Christ, or being “saved” - this is where most people in our generation have developed their faith from. It's where predestination or foreordination vs Whosoever Will comes from.

And this is why we are in the situation we are in today. There are so many people out there who have come in contact with H2O - and call it being baptized. But the truth is - they can be put in water until they begin to grow gills - but until they have become fully immersed in the name - in the Authority of the King of kings and Lord of lords - I'm afraid they merely think or hope that they are in Christ.

I don't believe it's a guessing game. If predestination and foreordination were still in effect today - no one would ever know they were in Christ until after they “died.” Because the choice would have never been theirs - and even if they would have or could have chosen - if God had not planned it to be that way - neither would have mattered.

But in the New World - we can choose. And when we see fruit of that choice. We can absolutely know that we have been given everlasting life and we have been made one of the sons of God. That is so exciting. This, I believe, provides great hope. Great peace and comfort in very troubling times.
